Danny Watkins Is In Tax Collector Race

Danny "Storekeeper" Watkins, a lifelong resident of Coffee County, has qualified to seek the Democratic nomination for Tax Collector of Coffee County. Watkins was born and raised in Coffee County and is a graduate of Enterprise High School. He is married to the former Martha Carr and they have two children, Karen-12 and Crystal-9. He attends Park Avenue Baptist Church where he has served as Training Director, Sunday School Teacher, and Deacon. Watkins has worked with the U.S. Army Test Facilities for 17 years and is the owner of Storekeeper Electronics.

"I have always had an interest in politics," said Watkins, "and I feel the Tax Collector's job is for me. It is an interesting job and my money should help me handle the job."

In conclusion, Watkins stated "We consider ourselves as residents of Coffee County not just a section of the county, I will serve all the county."

Letters, Reports Dominate Commission Meeting

The Coffee County Commission met in regular session on Monday, July 24, at the Court-house in Elba with all members present. Present were Commissioners Gilmer Grant, Jack Hornsby, Rex Boutwell, Don Smith, Bennie Beckman and Max J. Reeves, along with Probate Judge James L. Sawyer and Clerk Brunese Winston. The first order of business was to open bids for publishing the Voting List of qualified voters in Coffee County. The bids were: Enterprise Ledger - ($15,000 Names) $2,000 and (18,000 Names) $2,250; and Elba Clipper - (15,000 Names) $3,071.25 and (18,000) $3,543.75. The commission voted to accept the low bid from the Enterprise Ledger. The complete list will appear in both papers on Thursday, August 10.

Probate Judge James L. Sawyer read letters from: Sen. Mayron Allen pleading support of recent legislation backed by the commission; H.R.D.C. seeking approval of two grants for which Federal funds will be requested. The projects are (1) Alabama Highway Dept. for mass transportation studies - $52,500; and (2) Community Food and Nutrition - $30,000. The commission approved both requests.

Attorneys in Mobile requesting the commission for garnishment of the wages of a county employee for lack of payment to a large Department store.

County Engineer Leslie Mullins told the commission he would confer with R.T. Williams to negotiate a contract for work on Shell Field Road. Mullins also told the commission he had the deeds for the land on the south side of the Tobe Grime's Road (work will now be done in preparation for paving).

Mullins would like the commission to meet with members of the Enterprise council to ask the City to pay for moving poles on Moates Road.

Mrs. Brunese Winston told the commission: "*that a workshop on Revenue Sharing and County Administration was coming up at the University of Alabama. The commission authorized Mrs. Winston and any commissioner to attend the workshop."

*A bill for $297.13 had been received from James H. Moore for tax appraisal work. The commission decided to withhold payment.

*A decision must be made on signing a contract with an Insurance Company for county coverage. The commission voted to remain with Home Life Insurance.

In other action, the commission: *Authorized any commissioner member to attend the Governor's Conference on Emergency Medical Services in Birmingham on Aug 8-9; *discussed appointing a Budget Committee for 1979 fiscal year; *voted to do erosion control work on Moates Road (flaming and grading); *went on record as requesting the Board of Registrars to stay open until 6 p.m. on weekday and noon on Saturday; *and, a adjourned until Aug. 14.

Local Reserve Unit Plans For First Summer Camp

Preparations are underway for the unit at the Army Reserve Center in Elba to attend two weeks annual training this summer. According to Captain Joe Johnson, the Center commander, this training is one of the most important training missions of the Army Reserve.

Captain Johnson listed the unit as the 191st Maintenance Company. The commander added that, for this unit, annual training will take place at an Army post where Reservists will train with active Army counterparts.

"For example, the 191st Maintenance Company will travel to Ft. Benning at Columbus, Georgia, where Reservists will train directly with active Army members of the 589th Maintenance Company. Such training will help establish uniformity and compatibility among the three components that make up the total Army - the Active Component, the Army National Guard, and the Army Reserve," the commander said.

"This integrated training is part of the Total Army policy, a concept on which the Army bases its structure and readiness to respond to emergencies," Captain Johnson said.

Statistics reveal that more than 65 percent of the total tactical support and 66 percent of the Army's total medical capability are in the Reserve components. In terms of personnel and equipment, about half the Army's combat power is now in the Army Reserve and Army National Guard, the commander went on to say.

In emphasizing the importance of annual training, Captain Johnson said that these two weeks will provide the opportunity to perform in a "full-time" Army environment, a condition not normally available to Reserve units during the 16 hours a month of drill period.

Captain Johnson concluded with the statement: "There is a morale factor here, too, which should not be overlooked. Both the Reservists and active Army soldier will have the opportunity to eye-witness the proficiency of the other which can only help to establish an atmosphere of mutual respect."

Opp Plans Auction And Home Folks Day

The Opp Historical Society Merchants Committee has planned two events for area citizens' enjoyment.

Auction Day is scheduled for July 29, from 2 - 5 p.m. This event will kick off the annual Old Home Folk Days. During this time, many events are held, such as costume contest, sidewalk sales, etc.

REGISTRARS ADD EXTRA HOUR TO REGISTER EACH DAY

August days to register to vote in this year's election are in Elba, 1, 2, 4, 7, 8, 9, in Enterprise, 10, 11, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 21.

The Board of Registrars consists of Mrs. Quintile R. Whitman, Mrs. Zelma M. Deane, and Mr. S. C. Wilson. Tim is now 5 p.m. to 5 p.m., an extra hour in the afternoon.

Meeks Is Candidate For District 68 House Seat

Larry Meeks qualified for State House of Representatives District 68, Friday, District 68 includes Pike, Bullock, Barbour and Coffee Counties.

Meeks, owner of the Credit Bureau of Troy was born and raised in Pike County. He attended the public schools here and attended Troy State University where he received a B.S. in Marketing.

In 1973, he formed the Southeast Credit Company and in 1976, bought the Credit Bureau of Troy and combined the two to become the Credit Bureau of Troy.

Meeks is married to the former Julia Blair of Evergreen and they have two children, Wesley, 3 years old and Jacqueline, 7 years old. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William (Bill) Beck of Troy.

"I believe Pike along with other counties is in a transitional change. People are ready to put a man of business status in this office rather than a professional or political man," said Meeks.

"I believe people are ready for common sense, talk and honest government for a change. I don't think I can change the work over but I will make every effort possible to meet the needs of the people I represent. I will be under no obligation to any certain group or person - only to the people I represent."

Rotary Gives To Charity Groups

The Elba Rotary Club made donations to two worthwhile projects recently. Pictures above are Rotarians Robert Marsh, Barry Cavan, Director of Development and Progress with the Alabama Society F, Crippled Children and Adults; Carlisle Flowers, Administrator of the Rehabilitation Center in Dothan and Club President Jim Nichols. Donations were made to both the Camp ASCCA camp for handicapped and to the Dothan Reham Center. Flowers told the Rotarians of plans to greatly increase the capacity of the Dothan facility in the near future.

Martha Adams Qualifies For Secretary of State

Martha Adams, widely known Montgomery businesswoman and former assistant to the State Labor Director, announced she has qualified for the office of Alabama Secretary of State. On a low budget, Mrs. Adams, mother of three children, beat out the field to enter the runoff with Mrs. Betty Frink in 1974 for State Auditor. Mrs. Frink won the runoff.

"I am running for Secretary of State because I believe I have the best qualifications to handle this position. I intend to dedicate myself to the job and to bring modern improvements to this office," Mrs. Adams said.

Mrs. Adams said the Secretary of State performs many functions and that people do not make use of some of the office's services because they are not widely known. "I intend to make those services known to the public so that they get their money's worth from this office."

Mrs. Adams was one of the first women to serve as a member of Governor George C. Wallace's cabinet. Mrs. Adams is owner and operator of Lee and Lan Florist Co. in East Montgomery. She is president of the East Alabama Florist Assn. and director of the

Little Miss Contest Set For August

The annual Little Miss Elba contest will be held on Saturday night, August 12, at 7 p.m. in the high school auditorium. The event is sponsored by the Elba Lions Club. All contestants are to have their names in to Bill Bruce, principal of the Elba Elementary School, by August 7.

All girls who will be in the second grade this school year are eligible to participate.

Dickinson Seeks ReElection Again

Alabama's Second District Congressman William L. "Bill" Dickinson recently qualified with Bill Harris, Chairman of the Alabama State Republican Executive Committee, and with Secretary of State Agnes Baggett, as a candidate for re-election to the U.S. House of Representatives.

In announcing for reelection, the 14 year veteran Congressman said, "With the untimely death of Senator Jim Allen and the retirement of Senator Sparkman, Alabama will lose all of its seniority in the U.S. Senate. Therefore, it is more important than ever for Alabama to retain the seniority it has in the House of Representatives."

No Alabama Congressman has more seniority than does Dickinson.

"Lower taxes and less spending is what I stand for," Dickinson states, "and the role I have served in Washington hasn't changed in the fourteen years the people have kept me in Congress. My only objective is to be an effective extension of the ideals and convictions of the people of the Second District. The votes I cast in Congress represent the consensus of their thinking. I remember who I work for -- I know where I come from. That's the way representative democracy is supposed to work," Dickinson said.

"My efforts on the Armed Services Committee are influential now because of our nation's defense structure," Dickinson said, "I got the least of which includes maintaining and enhancing our Army Aviation training."

POOR ORIGINAL

BRAINSTORMS

WITH FERRIN COX

With only six days to do their thing, there is almost no way the Alabama Legislature will pass all six major issues in the call for the special session as issued by Governor Wallace. The Governor's "lid bill" is a package of six very complicated bills. One Alabama lawmaker could tie up the entire session with lengthy readings and continuous amendments to these property tax bills alone—and that isn't even started on the other things mentioned, such as welfare funds, prisons, TVA funds, etc.

One day last week a local businessman commented about the twelve inch side bodies on the Elba trash truck. He was almost apologetic about his obvious opinion that they could haul more from the dump trash body if the side bodies were just a little higher! There may be a reason for such short side bodies, but we sure don't understand it there is.

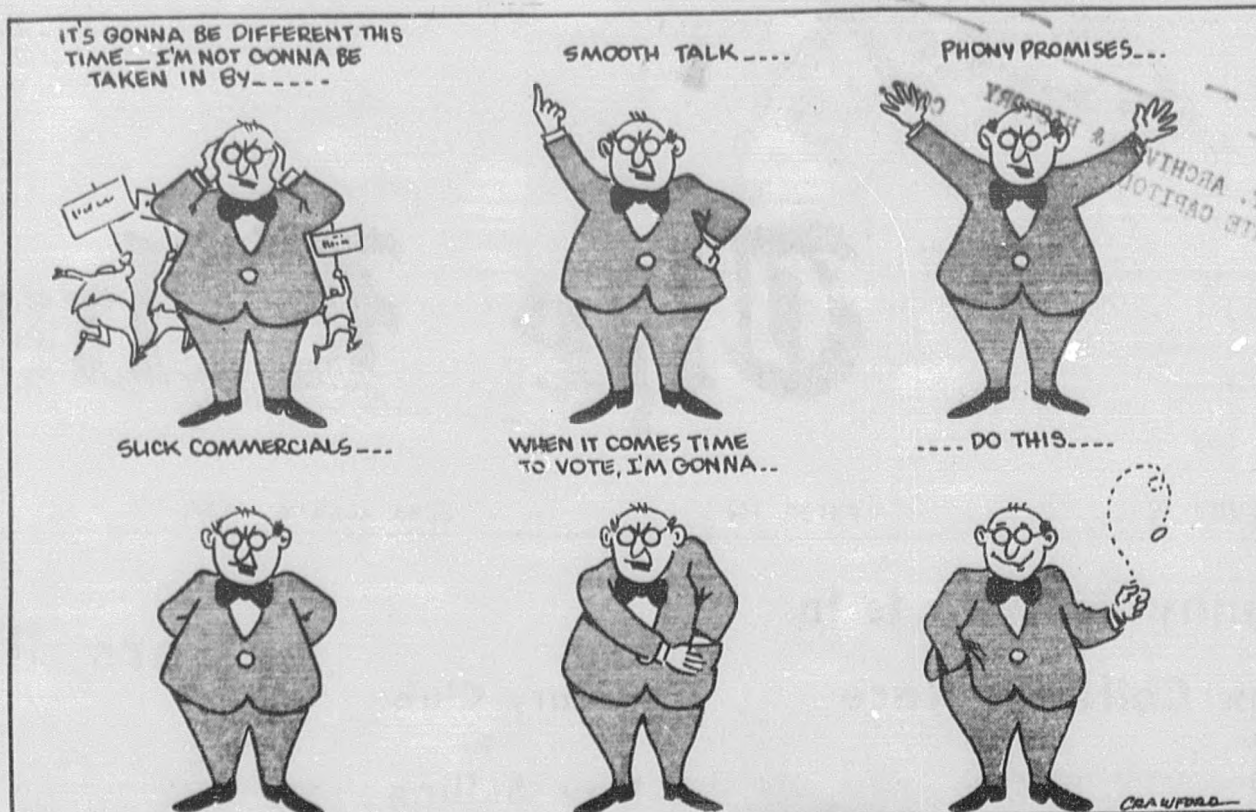

A note attached to a subscription check this week took me to task for not speaking out hard enough to elect "our governor". While I am convinced Albert Brewer is the best man for the job and will be elected, please excuse me for not rubbing it in on our readers at every turn. Some of our readers are supporting virtually every other candidate in the race, and it is out of respect for them that we leave out some things we would like to write each week.

Howell Heflin is leading in his quest to replace Senator John Sparkman in Washington, according to most observers. However, his copying the theme of the late Jim Allen by stressing that the "Washington Crowd" is against him is a little too much for me. If my memory serves me correctly, Allen got his reputation by being against everything—and he was rarely in the headlines for supporting anything—and this is amazing. Anyway with Allen's widow running for his office and Heflin running for the other Senate office, there just isn't room for them both to claim they are carrying on the tradition of the late Senator Allen.

The man President Carter had hired for $50,000 a year to help control drug abuse has resigned under fire after being accused of—yes, drug abuse. Reports are he helped a White House employee get controlled drugs under a false name—and that isn't legal. Now Carter has put out the word that he will fire anyone on his staff caught using drugs or smoking pot. This points up the fact that pot smoking is not confined to the "long haired teenagers", but is all too common at high fashion social gatherings around the nation.

This mention of Carter reminds us of another of fact of life—some of the magic seems to have gone out of Plains, Georgia. Saturday morning, we old editor and family drove through there and except for the fact that the dogs were not in the street, it is the Plains of five years ago. Agreed this was early morning, but coming back in mid-afternoon there was very little tourist traffic then, either.

I just don't understand these people who come in with big strings of big fish. I can go the day before or the day after and go to the same places, fish with the same magic bait—and nothing. Some of these so called expert fishermen has had me accuse them of using nets to get their trophy catches!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

I'd like for all the people in and around Elba to know the "Good Samaritans", who came to our aid the 4th of July. We were returning to Enterprise after attending a funeral and had 4 ladies in the car with me. A few miles this side of Elba, going downhill, I never heard such an explosion. That was my first "Blow Out" to ever experience. Luckily, I was able to hold the car under complete control and drive off the highway. Five women fled out of the car into the hot sun, and looked then like a Texas desert.

Shortly after we were outside, inspecting the completely torn up tire, a young couple drove up behind us and stopped. They were moving us and saw the blow out, realizing the car had only ladies, turned around and came back to change our tire. Needless to say, I was steering that car with all I had and undivided attention. I didn't know we met anybody or passed anything. We were so overjoyed over the nice couple turning around to help us, we were beside ourselves. We did learn their name was Hamm from Elba. Not many people would take that chance with a car load of strangers on a 4th of July.

I have been thanking the Lord ever since for sending Betty and "Sweet" Hamm to help us out, also thanking the Lord I was able to control the car and not adding the carload of ladies plus the Hamm's to the great number of 4th of July tragedies.

We will be forever grateful to Betty and "Sweet" Hamm and sincerely hope if they ever need help, the "Good Samaritans" will appear to help them.

Twenty thousand miles out, and more.

It's part of an almost-quarter-billion-dollar project that makes it easier for you to make long-distance phone calls.

What you see here is one of the earth stations that are part of the system. It beams calls—18,000 at a clip—to a satellite hovering more than 20,000 miles above the equator. At the same time, it gathers in the same number of calls, and sends them out over our regular phone lines.

It's part of the incredibly complex telephone system that's just about the most effective and efficient communications system the world has ever seen.

And it has reliability built in, whether it's an earth station talking to outer space—or a cute little telephone that's built like Mickey Mouse. Because we realize how important it is to keep you in touch with your world.

We spend hundreds of millions of dollars every year, making sure that when you pick up your phone... it works.

The Elba Girl's All-Star softball team competed in the District 6 tournament last weekend in Greenville and shocked their opponents by winning 3 games and placing second in the tourney. The Elba team had by far the smallest players in the tourney, but played excellent ball and deserved the 1st place trophy! If not for a poor call by an umpire the Elba Gals would have won the whole thing!

Elba's players represented the City well and just wish everyone could have seen them play. I coached the team, and after working with them in practice and watching the way they played in Greenville I can honestly say "They're a Great Bunch of Gals!"

The Dothan teams were good, but displayed very poor sportsmanship. One of the teams cursed at our girls throughout our game and our girls showed their class by ignoring the remarks. If a team of young girls can't be good sports they should quit and watch, because there is no excuse for poor sportsmanship in a game!

The Women's State Softball Tournament starts Friday in Montgomery and once again the Enterprise Merchants will be entered. The Merchants won their District and have a good chance of improving their 9th place finish of a year ago. Good Luck!

Lamar Kelley is busily organizing the Little League football league for next season and it looks like the youngsters will have their best league ever. If anyone wishes to coach call Lamar and let him know!

Elba Girl's Place 2nd In District Tourney

The Elba Girl's All-Star softball team journeyed to Greenville last weekend to compete in the District 6 softball tournament and claimed three wins to finish second in the five-team affair.

The team was assembled only two weeks ago and held only five practices prior to the tourney. The team consisted of 4 players from the Rebels, 2 each from the Bandits and Victoria Blues, 1 from Kienert's and 6 girls that weren't on a team.

The Elba team had the smallest players competing in the tournament, but were never challenged. The big inning for Elba was the third, when the team combined ten hits to score seven runs. Laura Doster and Rhonda Baker both got two hits in the outburst. Cindy Baker again led all hitters by collecting a double and two singles. Marie Holman, Laura Doster, Rhonda Baker and Gail "Porky" Smith all added two hits. Also adding hits were Sherri Hudson, Teresa Armstrong, Rhonda Pope, Glenda Holcomb, Rhoda Hudson and Rhonda Pope.

Elba's second victory was a stunning 9-6 upset of the Dothan Americans. The locals jumped into a 3-0 lead after three-innings and were never challenged. Elba saw the tourney championship slip away when a controversial call allowed the bying run to score in the seventh-inning, and when Sherri Hudson threw out a runner for the third out, Elba apparently had the win. However, the umpire was blocked-out on the play and called the runner safe, allowing a run to score. Dothan added a run in the eighth-inning to claim a win.

ALL AROUND COFFEE COUNTY

County Farm Agent TOM CASADY

FORTUNATE

For several years people throughout the county have told me about Fred Donaldson promoting peanuts here and abroad. I finally got Donaldson to share with me some of the comments that people have made concerning his speeches which relate to peanuts. Donaldson mentions how Coffee County farmers fell on hard times due to the boll weevil. They were forced to anchor crop-peanuts. In his speech he mentions that on many occasions adversity forces individuals and groups to make changes, and many times, as certainly in the case of the change to peanuts, the benefits are overwhelming.

The Alabama Peanut Producers Association, of which Frank Britt of Coffee County is treasurer, provided excellent information to Fred and also some little moments for distribution. Sessions in Coffee County have such a super peanut promotion ambassador for the beautiful peanuts we grow in this area!

After Donaldson spoke there, "The Daily Journal" in Illinois, wrote: "The citizenry of Enterprise, Alabama, in gratitude for the economic boon represented by their massive peanut crop, erected a statue of a boll weevil to commemorate that insect's destruction of the area's cotton industry, which calamity led to a fortuitous crop conversion. They turned a great adversity into a great opportunity."

CONTROLLED BURNING
Coffee County Forest Ranger

Wayne Drewery and I talked recently about putting on a controlled burning demonstration for Coffee County landowners. Controlled burning can control undesirable trees in pine stands. It is also valuable for controlling undesirable underbrush.

We have a large number of landowners in the county who are interested in doing something about their forest lands. They are realizing more every year the importance of improving timber management. I don't think there is any doubt about it. As an agricultural county, we are weaker in timber management than in any other phase of agriculture. This controlled burning demonstration will show landowners how to do controlled burning and the importance of it. More on this later.

BOAT TESTING

Good progress is being made on the construction of the boat testing station at Headland. Coffee County producers will benefit when this facility becomes operational.

Final date for making certification reports to ASCS on peanuts, cotton, corn, grain sorghum, soybeans, and designated set-aside acreages will be July 31, 1978. Adjustments of acreages after the final certification date is not permitted.

English said that if farmers with still more accurate measurement of acreage, it is available at cost from ASCS. Farmers who grow tobacco and other marketable crops (extra long staple cotton and peanuts) should continue to report their acreages as in past years. These crops are not affected by set-aside or other program requirements.

For more information call ASCS on 894-5581 or 894-5582. ASCS programs are open to all eligible persons regardless of race, religion, color, national origin or sex.

ASCS REPORTS SET-ASIDE CROP PLANTINGS

Coffee County farmers participating in set-aside programs have planted 882 acres of wheat for harvest in 1978, according to Robert English, an official of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS).

Final results of the slump report for 1978 cotton, feed grain and wheat set-aside programs also showed that 19,702.1 acres of feed grains will be planted on participating farms. "The feed grain total includes 9.0 acres of barley, 18,314.9 acres of corn, and 1,385.2 acres of grain sorghum," English said.

NEWS from your PHARMACIST

KRIS SCARBOROUGH

Between five and ten per cent of the nation's population is afflicted with some degree of hearing impairment. Some of these persons are actually deaf and others just "hard of hearing."

Loss of hearing is the result of various causes, including inflammation, infections and a damage caused by blows. Impairment of hearing often results following contagious childhood diseases and also through heredity.

Those children who suffer defective hearing at very early ages cannot talk, although they have normal vocal chords, because they can't hear and therefore cannot imitate the speech of others. These children must have special training in order to learn. Parents who suspect that their children have a hearing defect should consult their family physician.

WRAP-UP

When one Lilliston Hi-Cap 6000 Peanut Combine will out-harvest any other machine made, you can't have it without the nuts. There are three tremendous advantages in using a Hi-Cap.

One, it will get more peanuts faster than anything else in the field.

Two, in engineering detail and construction, the Lilliston Hi-Cap is absolutely superb—polished close to perfection since its introduction in 1972.

And third, it is backed by a dollar-a-second service that has been acknowledged to be second to none in the farming industry. You're never alone with a Lilliston.

That's why Mike Morrison uses this fleet of Lillistons wherever he goes. "In no time period," he says, "I need the best."

ACCURATE CROP CERTIFICATION NEEDED

"Crop acreage and use must be reported accurately on a field by field basis," Robert English, an official with the (ASCS) Committee, said.

English indicated that the importance of farmers making correct reports on their 1978 planted acreage of program crops cannot be overemphasized. It's a requirement for eligibility for commodity
loans, target price protection and disaster and emergency program assistance.

"The local ASCS office staff helps farmers by using aerial photographs for making field boundaries," English said.

With these photographs, farmers will be able to identify the fields that are devoted to program crops, set-aside, or diversion. The use of some crops also must be reported.

Final date for making cer-tification reports to ASCS
on peanuts, cotton, corn, grain sorghum, soybeans, and designated set-aside acreages will be July 31, 1978. Adjustments of acreages after the final certification date is not permitted.

English said that if farmers with still more accurate measurement of acreage, it is available at cost from ASCS.

Farmers who grow tobacco and other marketable crops (extra long staple cotton and peanuts) should continue to report their acreages as in past years. These crops are not affected by set-aside

these lakes.

These state lakes were built in areas which did not have sufficient streams or lakes to meet the needs of the fishing public. As a result, these lakes receive extremely heavy fishing pressure. To provide the best possible fishing under this heavy pressure the lakes are intensely managed by the Fisheries Section. The lakes are fertilized to increase fish production and decrease underwater vegetation. Balance and general management checks

are conducted by fisheries biologists throughout the year.
Based on these checks, various management techniques are employed to keep fishing success at a high level. A few of these techniques are corrective restocking of bass fingerlings, temporarily closing the lake to bass fishing, reducing the daily limit for a particular species, supplemental feeding, and treatment with fish toxicants to remove overcrowded forage fish. These state lakes were originally bass-bluegill re-stocked lakes but through a continuing research program,

other species such as catfish, crayfish, walleye, and hybrid saltwater stripers are now being studied or are entering into the overall management program to further improve fishing.

The daily creel limit at most public fishing lakes is two striped bass or hybrids, six walleye, six catfish, six bass, 20 bluegill and 50 crappie. The limit on individual species may be adjusted at each lake to assist in the management of the fish population.
Fishermen should check with the lake concessionaire to determine if there are any changes in the general creel limit.

Fishing hours are from daylight to dark at all lakes and most lakes are closed one day a week. A daily $1.00 fishing permit is required of all fishermen 12 years of age or older. This permit is required in addition to the appropriate county or state fishing license.

Boats are available for rent
at each lake and fishing licenses and tackle are also available. Gasoline powered outboard motors are prohibited

on all the lakes except Chambers, Fayette and Walker County Public Lakes. Fishermen may use a 10 h.p. or smaller motor operated at trotting speed only at Chambers and Walker County Public Lakes. Electric trolling motors may be used on all lakes. These are available for rent at several of the lakes.

Many of the state-owned public fishing lakes are good for bass fishing. The bass average more than three pounds each.

That is an exceptionally large average size!

Each year there are some trophy bass caught from these public fishing lakes. Bass nine to ten pounds have been caught at almost every one of the 19 lakes, while bass weighing up to 13 pounds have been caught at several lakes.
The most consistent trophy producers are Chambers, Crenshaw, Dale, DeKalb, Lee
and Monroe Public Fishing Lakes. Washington County Lake was stocked seven years ago with Florida bass and has begun to produce trophy size bass.

Mary Dowling Attends Workshop

Mrs. Mary H. Dowling, Elba librarian, attended the library workshop held in Opp on Thursday. Librarians in the Cross Trails Regional Library area were given the benefit learning experience from an intensive workshop held at the University of Alabama recently. The institute was sponsored by the Alabama Public Library Service. Mrs. Emili Thompson of Enterprise, Mrs. Paula Enfinger of Geneva and Mrs. Barbara Parker of Florida told the Opp workshop group of their experiences at the Tuscaloosa in-service training program. Each said that she had benefited by the experience and encouraged others to attend whenever they have the opportunity.

Mrs. Margaret West, Andalusia librarian, announced that the Tri-State Workshop would be held in Andalusia this fall on October 26. Tri-State is composed of Alabama, Florida and Georgia. She invited all librarians to attend.

After the program, librarians were invited to "Ye Old Book Shoppe" where each librarian picked 154 books to take back to her respective library. These books completely processed and ready to be placed on the library shelf for the library user. George Johnson, Cross Trails administrator, lauded library user Harry Hickerson, William C. Bundy and Cheryl Tipton, Cross Trails staff, for having the books ready for pick-up in a brief period.

The guests enjoying the delicious meal were Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Howell and Lloyd; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mullins, Debbie, and Jonathan; Dr. and Mrs. James H. Paterson, Hiram, Elizabeth, and Gray; Mr. and Mrs. James Kerr; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Kerr; Mr. and Mrs. Willie F. Howell; Mr. and Mrs. Winston Adkins; and Mr. and Mrs. Toddy Maiden.

Between the hours of 3:00 p.m. and 5:00 p.m. fifty relatives attended the reception. Guests of the afternoon were brothers, sisters, nieces, and nephews of the honored couple.

Mr. Pomroy Howell greeted the guests and presented them to the honored couple. Miss Shan Howell, a granddaughter, registered the guests. The registry table was overlaid with a gold cloth and held a crystal bud vase containing yellow daisies.

The guests were then directed to the refreshment table that was overlaid with an ivory linen cloth. The delicious and pretty three-tiered anniversary cake, embossed in white spun sugar with yellow rose buds, centered the table. Thirteen tiers were separated by white columns. A golden bride and groom and the gold numeral 50 adorned the top of the cake. A crystal candelabrum holding gold candles and flanked with greenery and yellow daisies was placed at each end of the table. Crystal dishes containing nuts and mints completed the arrangements for this table. Misses Valerie Conner, Elizabeth Paterson, and Debbie Mullins, granddaughters of the honored couple, served the tempting refreshments. Miss Sonna Howell, a granddaughter, passed out the napkins engraved in gold.

Others assisting with the reception in various capacities were Mrs. Cleatis Mae Howell, Mrs. Adelaide Mullins, Mrs. Carolyn Paterson, Mrs. Jo Ann Kerr, and Mrs. Jane Howell.

For this memorable occasion all six of Mr. and Mrs. Howell's children were present. All of their grandchildren except four were present and their grandchild was present. Mr. and Mrs. Howell received a lovely array of pretty and useful gifts.
